

WARM AIR UNIT SERVICING & REPAIRS

This design of heating system was favoured in the 60's & 70's, but today it is no longer commonly used. However there are still many properties built or refurbished within this era that have this form of heating and FJS Plumbing & Heating are fully qualified to service, repair and maintain these systems.

A typical service includes stripping down of the fan and burner and cleaning the respective parts. This will ensure the warm air heating system functions safely & effectively and reduces the likelihood of failure during the colder weather conditions.
